A Weekly Analysis of Energy Stocks Using the McDep Ratio August 15, 2006

Unchanged Thesis

Summary and Recommendation

Despite a momentous oil shutdown in Alaska and a Hezbollah-Israeli war in the Middle East, our oil and gas investment thesis is unchanged. Oil price appears to be on a longterm uptrend while natural gas has extra price potential especially from a cyclical low. Stocks of oil and gas producers appear to be priced for less than current commodity price. The illustrative McDep Energy Portfolio has its highest participation in oil production at a composite 48% followed by natural gas at a composite of 42%, 28% North America and 14% Rest of World. The largest suggested portfolio holdings of individual buy recommendations are Canadian Oil Sands Trust (COSWF) in oil, San Juan Basin Royalty Trust (SJT) in North American natural gas and Gazprom (OGZPY) in Rest of World natural gas. Rankings by McDep Ratio are updated for stock price while rankings by cash flow multiple are also updated for latest commodity futures prices.

After vacation on August 22 and 29, Meter Reader is expected to resume weekly publication on September 5.
